

FEATHER PECKING

Below: classic feather pecking around the vent and hens underside. It is also common on the 'saddle' area below the tail.

Below left: feather pecking on the underside and vent area.

Below: feather pecking with the feather tips snapped off rather than pulled out.

Below: Moulting hen with new feather regrowth.

Below: A combination of moulting around the neck and cockerel damage on the saddle area.

